2.4 Purposes of processing
 The purposes of processing of your data are
 - processing of a business relationship between us, including communication between us, in particular for processing of the payment transactions, accounting and performance of the contractual obligations between us.

2.5 Legal basis for processing
 We only process your data if there is a legal basis for it. This is the case according to sect. 6 para. 1 GDPR when at least one of the following provisions is met.
 a. processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which you are a party or in order to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract;
 b. processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which we are subject;
 c. processing is necessary to maintain our legitimate interests except where such interests are overridden by your interests or fundamental rights and freedoms which require protection of personal data.

2.6 Legitimate interests within the meaning of sect. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR
 Our legitimate interests – or those of a third party – may be
 a. the presence of a legal relationship between us;
 b. the prevention of fraud;
 c. measures to ensure and improve the safety of IT systems;
 d. measures to protect our company from illegal actions and

- e. internal administrative purposes, in particular exchange of data within our group of companies.

- 2.7 Legal or contractual obligation to provide the data
An obligation to provide data may result
- a. from a contract you have concluded with us and the performance of which data collection serves in the cases of item 2.5 lit. b;
 - b. from the statutory provisions we are subject to or – in accordance with sect. 6 para. 2 and 3 GDPR – the law of the European Union or the law of the member states of the European Union in the cases of item 2.5 lit. c.;
 - c. from general support or contractual secondary obligations that are not specifically targeted at data collection, such as the provisions on failure to render assistance in § 323c Criminal Code, in the cases of items 2.5 lit. d. and e.

IV. Your rights

4.1 You as the data subject have various rights under the General Data Protection Regulation. These are

- the right to be informed about the data concerning you that are stored by us (sect. 15 GDPR)
- the right to rectification of incorrect data (sect. 16 GDPR)
- the right to erasure of the data if there is no legal basis for continued storage (sect. 17 GDPR)
- the right to restriction of processing of the data to specific purposes (sect. 18 GDPR)
- the right to data portability (sect. 20 GDPR) and
- the right to object to processing of your data (sect. 21 GDPR).

If processing of your data is based on consent (see item 2.5 lit. a), you have the right to withdraw your given consent at any time. The legality of the processing taking place based on given consent until the withdrawal is not affected by the withdrawal.

Separate information about the right to object under Article 21 GDPR

According to Article 21 (1) of the GDPR, you have the right at any time, for reasons arising from your particular situation, to object to the processing of personal data relating to you pursuant to Article 6 (1) (f) of the GDPR (processing to safeguard the legitimate interests of the responsible entity or a third party).

If you object, we will no longer process your personal data, unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for processing that outweigh your interests, rights and freedoms, or the processing is for the purpose of asserting, exercising or defence of legal claims.

If the processing is to operate direct mail, you have the right, under Article 21 (2) GDPR, to object at any time to the processing of personal data relating thereto for the purpose of such advertising; this also applies to the profiling, as far as it is associated with such direct mail.

In addition to this, you have the right to complain to a supervisory authority in accordance with sect. 77 GDPR if you believe that processing of the data concerning you violates provisions under data protection law. The supervisory authority relevant for us is:
